

Early Career Teacher (ECT) Induction Policy

Frequency of Review	Annually
Author	Deputy Head Fitzwaryn Deputy Head Kingfisher
Approved by	Governing body
Reviewed	Jan 24
Date of Next Review	Jan 25 (unless there is a material change)

Rationale

All qualified teachers who are employed in a relevant school in England must, by law, have completed an induction period satisfactorily, subject to specified exceptions.

The induction programme at The Propeller Academy Trust supports Early Career Teachers (ECTs) and provides them with the necessary training to ensure that they can demonstrate that their performance against the Teachers' Standards is satisfactory by the end of the period.

Induction provides a foundation for ECTs and equip them with the tools to be an effective and successful teacher. It combines a structured programme of development, support, and professional dialogue, underpinned by the Early Career Framework (ECF), with monitoring and an ongoing assessment of performance against the Teachers' Standards.

The Oxfordshire Training School Hub (OTSH) is the named appropriate body that will quality assure the ECF-based induction programme delivered by University College London (UCL). ECTs are supported through their induction period by a designated Induction Tutor and a Mentor.

Aims

The aim of the programme is to support and guide ECTs in their first two years of teaching by making a significant contribution to both their professional and personal development. The programme aims to:

- support ECTs in their progress through the ECF;
- help ECTs to become fully integrated into the school as a whole;
- help ECTs to understand their responsibilities as part of the teaching profession;
- provide ECTs with the opportunity to observe good practice and to reflect on their own teaching practice with their Induction Tutor, Mentor, and other teachers;
- allow opportunities for them to identify areas for development;
- enable ECTs to perform satisfactorily against the Teachers' Standards;
- provide a foundation for ECTs to develop professionally in the long-term.

Roles and Responsibilities of those involved in the Induction Process

The ECT

The ECT is expected to:

- provide evidence that they have QTS and are eligible to start induction;
- meet with their induction tutor to discuss and agree priorities for their induction programme and keep these under review;
- agree with their induction tutor how best to use their reduced timetable allowance and guarantee engagement with their ECF-based induction programme;
- provide evidence of their progress against the Teachers' Standards;
- participate fully in the agreed monitoring and development programme;
- raise any concerns with their induction tutor as soon as practicable;
- consult their appropriate body named contact at an early stage if there are, or may be, difficulties in resolving issues with their tutor/within the institution;
- keep track of and participate effectively in the scheduled classroom observations, progress reviews and formal assessment meetings;
- agree with their induction tutor the start and end dates of the induction period/part periods and the dates of any absences from work during any period/part period; and
- retain copies of all assessment reports.

The Induction Tutor

The Induction Tutor is expected to:

- provide, or coordinate, guidance for the ECT's professional development (with the appropriate body where necessary);
- carry out regular progress reviews throughout the induction period;
- undertake two formal assessment meetings during the total induction period coordinating input from other colleagues as appropriate (normally one at the end of term three and one at the end of term six, or pro rata for part-time staff);
- carry out progress reviews in terms where a formal assessment does not occur;
- inform the ECT following progress review meetings of the determination of their progress against the Teachers' Standards and share progress review records with the ECT, head teacher and appropriate body;
- inform the ECT during the assessment meeting of the judgements to be recorded in the formal assessment record and invite the ECT to add their comments;
- ensure that the ECT's teaching is observed, and feedback provided;
- ensure ECTs are aware of how, both within and outside the institution, they can raise any concerns about their induction programme or their personal progress;
- take prompt, appropriate action if an ECT appears to be having difficulties; and
- ensure that all monitoring and record keeping is done in the most streamlined and least burdensome way, and that requests for evidence from ECTs do not require new documentation but draw on existing working documents.

The Mentor

The Mentor is expected to:

- regularly meet with the ECT for structured mentor sessions to provide effective targeted feedback;
- work collaboratively with the ECT and other colleagues involved in the ECT's induction within the same school to help ensure the ECT receives a high-quality ECF-based induction programme;
- provide, or broker, effective support, including phase or subject specific mentoring and coaching; and
- take prompt, appropriate action if an ECT appears to be having difficulties.

The Head teacher

The Head teacher is, along with the Appropriate Body (OTSH), jointly responsible for the monitoring, support, and assessment of the ECT during induction, and is expected to:

- check that the ECT has been awarded QTS;
- clarify whether the teacher needs to serve an induction period or is exempt;
- agree, in advance of the ECT starting the induction programme, which body will act as the appropriate body;
- notify the appropriate body when an ECT is taking up a post in which they will be undertaking induction;
- ensure that the requirements for a suitable post for induction are met;
- ensure the induction tutor has the ability and sufficient time to carry out their role effectively;
- ensure that the mentor has the ability and sufficient time to carry out their role effectively;
- ensure an appropriate ECF-based induction programme is in place;
- ensure the ECT's progress is reviewed regularly, including through observations of and feedback on their teaching;
- ensure that assessments are carried out and reports completed and sent to the appropriate body;

- maintain and retain accurate records of employment that will count towards the induction period;
- ensure that all monitoring and record keeping is done in the most streamlined and least burdensome way;
- make the governing body aware of the arrangements that have been put in place to support ECTs serving induction;
- make a recommendation to the appropriate body on whether the ECT's performance against the Teachers' Standards is satisfactory or requires an extension;
- participate appropriately in the appropriate body's quality assurance procedures; and
- retain all relevant documentation/evidence/forms on file for six years.

There may also be circumstances where the head teacher is expected to:

- obtain interim assessments from the ECT's previous post;
- act early, alerting the appropriate body, when necessary, in cases where an ECT may be at risk of not completing induction satisfactorily;
- ensure third-party observation of an ECT who may be at risk of not performing satisfactorily against the Teachers' Standards;
- notify the appropriate body as soon as absences total 30 days or more;
- periodically inform the governing body about the institution's induction arrangements;
- advise and agree with the appropriate body where, in exceptional cases, it may be appropriate to reduce the length of the induction period or deem that it has been satisfactorily completed;
- consult with the appropriate body in cases where a part-time ECT has completed a period covering, but not equivalent to, two school years and has met the necessary requirements to reduce induction;
- provide interim assessment reports for staff moving school in between formal assessment periods; and
- notify the appropriate body when an ECT serving induction leaves the institution.

The Local Governing Body

The Local Governing Body:

- should ensure compliance with the requirement to have regard to the statutory Induction for ECT (England) guidance;
- should be satisfied that the institution has the capacity to support the ECT;
- should ensure the head teacher is fulfilling their responsibility to meet the requirements of a suitable post for induction;
- must investigate concerns raised by an individual ECT as part of the Trust's agreed grievance procedures;
- can seek guidance from the appropriate body on the quality of the Trust's induction arrangements and the roles and responsibilities of staff involved in the process; and
- can request general reports on the progress of an ECT.

Statutory Requirements

This policy is informed and underpinned by the Induction for Early Career Teacher (England) Statutory Guidance for appropriate bodies, head teachers, school staff and governing bodies (Department for Education) that comes into force on 1 September 2021.

In line with the statutory guidance the school will:

- identify people, with QTS, to act as the ECT's induction tutor and mentor, giving them sufficient time to carry out the role effectively and meet the needs of the ECT;
- ensure that ECTs have a reduced timetable of no more than 90% in Year 1 and 95% in Year 2 of the timetable of the school's existing teachers on the main pay range to enable them to undertake activities in their induction programme. This is in addition to the planning, preparation, and assessment time (PPA) that all teachers receive;

- facilitate a suitable monitoring and support programme to meet the professional development needs of the ECT;
- keep ECTs up to date on their progress – there will be ‘no surprises’.

Monitoring, support, and assessment during induction

A suitable monitoring and support programme must be put in place for the ECT, structured to meet their professional development needs (including the development needs of part-time ECTs). This is expected to include:

- a programme of training that supports the ECT to understand and apply the knowledge and skills set out in the Early Career Framework’s evidence (‘learn that’) statements and practice (‘learn how to’) statements. This will be delivered by UCL via the OTSH and will be a blend of face-to-face and online training for ECTs and their mentors;
- regular one to one mentoring sessions from a designated mentor who is expected to hold QTS and has the time and ability to carry out the role effectively;
- support and guidance from a designated induction tutor who is expected to hold QTS and has the time and ability to carry out the role effectively;
- observation of the ECT’s teaching with written feedback provided;
- professional reviews of progress conducted by the induction tutor to set and review development targets against the Teachers’ Standards; and
- ECT’s observation of experienced teachers either in the ECT’s own institution or in another institution where effective practice has been identified.

Determining the length of the induction period

The length of the induction period an ECT is required to serve, whether the teaching post in which they are doing so is part-time or full-time, is the full-time equivalent of two school years. This usually consists of six school terms, divided into two periods each consisting of three school terms.

The appropriate body makes the final decision about the equivalence to two school years in cases where the ECT serves induction in more than one setting.

The minimum period that can be counted towards completion of the induction period (for both full-time and part-time ECTs) is continuous employment equivalent to one term (based on an institution that operates three terms in a school year). This applies to both permanent and long-term supply teaching posts. It also reflects the need for each ECT to work in a stable environment and receive a supported and pre-planned induction programme. In addition, it is important that the ECT is in post long enough to be able to receive sufficient monitoring and feedback and prepare for a fair and reasonable assessment of their performance. It would be very difficult to do this against all of the Teachers’ Standards over a period of less than one term.

Unsatisfactory progress against the Teachers’ Standards

Where the induction tutor determines during the progress review that the ECT is not making satisfactory progress against the Teachers’ Standards, they should state this clearly within the progress review record and clearly outline the support plan they have put in place to assist the ECT in getting back on track.

The induction tutor is expected to notify the appropriate body of this determination and share both the progress review record and support plan for the appropriate body to review.

If it becomes apparent that an ECT is not making satisfactory progress in the first formal assessment, the appropriate body should be informed, and the head teacher should ensure that additional monitoring and support measures are put in place immediately.

It is important that the ECT is made aware of where they need to improve their practice and given every opportunity to raise their performance.

The head teacher and the appropriate body should be satisfied that:

- areas in which improvement is needed have been correctly identified;
- appropriate objectives have been set to guide the ECT towards satisfactory performance against the Teachers' Standards; and
- an effective support programme is in place to help the ECT improve their performance.

If the ECT's progress is still unsatisfactory in subsequent progress reviews following the first assessment point, induction tutors should continue to deliver progress reviews as set out above, including reviewing and revising the ECT's objectives and support plan, linking these with the Teachers' Standards and sharing with the ECT, head teacher and appropriate body.

Action if performance is still unsatisfactory

Where there are still concerns about the ECT's progress between formal assessment one and two the induction tutor should explain to the ECT the consequences of failure to complete the induction period satisfactorily and discuss fully with the ECT:

- the identified weaknesses;
- the agreed objectives previously set in relation to the requirements for the satisfactory completion of induction, updating these as necessary;
- details of additional monitoring and support put in place;
- the evidence used to inform the judgement; and
- details of the improvement plan for the next assessment period.

As with all progress reviews, the progress review record should capture the ECT's unsatisfactory performance against the Teachers' Standards and be shared with the appropriate body alongside the corresponding support plan.

The completion of the assessment report will reflect the current rate of progress and brief details of the issues discussed.

In a few particularly serious cases it may be necessary to instigate capability procedures at a stage before the end of the induction period, which may lead to dismissal before the end of the induction period. If this is the case, for as long as the ECT remains at the institution the induction process must continue in parallel with the capability procedure. The appropriate body should be informed.

Addressing ECT Concerns

An ECT is normally expected to raise any concerns about their induction programme with their induction tutor at school in the first instance. If the matter is not resolved, the ECT may notify the named contact at the appropriate body who should, as soon as possible, investigate the issues raised.